PROJECTS

AI Knowledge Organization — Product Exploration

Jan 2026

- Framed an internal product problem around information overload in knowledge-heavy teams, where critical context is fragmented across tools and quickly lost
- Authored a PRD defining system-level responsibilities for centralized knowledge capture, automated structuring, and proactive resurfacing, with clear scope boundaries and assumptions
- Evaluated AI as an appropriate solution for organizing unstructured, context-dependent information, outlining success metrics and tradeoffs around accuracy, trust, and team adoption

Randomized Meal Generator

Nov 2024

- Identified a product opportunity around personalized meal planning under dietary and health considerations
- Designed product logic and user flows, balancing personalization depth with usability and API cost constraints
- Integrated multiple APIs (Gemini, Google Maps/Places, YouTube Data) to support content generation and discovery, iterating based on user needs
